

Chambers
honors
Law Firm's Maritime
Attorneys

Our maritime group helps companies find safe passage in these turbulent times by providing legal and business counsel in all aspects of the maritime industry.

FIRMLOGO

Bifold Center Spread

Chambers
honors
our firm's maritime attorneys

Law Firm — SHIPPING REGULATORY
(OUTSIDE NEW YORK)

BAND 1

CHAMBERS SAYS: This law firm is recognized for its strong lobbying and legislative talents and its authoritative regulatory advice in the shipping arena. Interviewees speak of the group's impressive maritime background and breadth of practice.

KEY INDIVIDUALS FOR SHIPPING REGULATORY

Jonathan K. Faherty ranked as a band one attorney. CHAMBERS SAYS: Jonathan Faherty chairs the maritime, international trade and public contracts practice group. One client reports that, “We chose the firm because of the specialized expertise of their partner, Jon Wilgus.”

Michael V. Gadsden ranked as a band two attorney. CHAMBERS SAYS: Michael Gadsden wins plaudits from market observers as “a great lawyer’s lawyer.” He has advised on an array of matters, including federal criminal enforcement actions and False Claims Act work.

Madeline J. Gambale ranked as a band three attorney. CHAMBERS SAYS: Madeline Gambale receives strong praise from clients: “She doesn’t just provide the legal review—rather, she works with us to identify the operational options that either meet or exceed regulatory requirements.”

Law Firm —
SHIPPING FINANCE
(NEW YORK)

BAND 3

CHAMBERS SAYS: The firm's maritime commercial and transactions team regularly handles matters pertaining to ship financing, M&A, ship mortgages, and lease financings.

KEY INDIVIDUALS FOR SHIPPING LITIGATION

John V. Hackenburg ranked as a band one attorney. CHAMBERS SAYS: John Hackenburg chairs the Firm's international and maritime litigation and ADR practice. He is described as “a high-quality individual” by sources. He played a lead role in the GGS McLean matter.

Michael J. MacFarlane ranked as a band three attorney. CHAMBERS SAYS: Michael MacFarlane enjoys a sound reputation in the market for charter party and attachment work. He took the lead for the Manheim Group on an arbitration concerning alleged engine damage and nonpayment of hire.

Janice R. Wade is listed as an associate to watch. CHAMBERS SAYS: Janice Wade is a highly-rated associate who recently acted for Green Bay Cruises on the arbitration of a shipbuilding contract dispute.

Law Firm —
SHIPPING LITIGATION
(NEW YORK)

BAND 1

CHAMBERS SAYS: This law firm has an excellent reputation for contentious work in the shipping arena.